

BAROLO, BARBARESCO, BARBERA ON E-BIKE

When talking about great reds from Piedmont, our mind immediately goes to Barolo and Barbaresco. Nevertheless many other varieties are grown in the region, Barbera being the most famous, counting half of the total production of wine.

The name "Barolo" appears for the first time in 1730 in London, on a goods delivery from the Kingdom of Sardinia addressed to the English Ambassador. Arguably the finest Italian wine, it has been recently challenged by Barbaresco, whose soil is richer in nutrients, originating a less tannic and more refined wine. On the opposite hand is Barbera, with lower tannins, to be drunk quite young.

The tour will bring us to discover the territory of Langhe and Monferrato d'Asti, revealing its world-renowned beauty and unveiling its hidden treasures. We will visit the place where Barolo, Barbaresco and Barbera were born and we will sample them in renowned wine cellars guided by masters. On our way we will enjoy panoramic views, glimpsing medieval villages and castles witnessing times of splendor. We will also be coasting wild and unknown places like Val Sarmassa Natural Reservation, home to a number of non-migratory animals such as foxes, hedgehogs, hoopoes and woodpeckers.
